TAX REVISION BILL PASSED BY SENATE; TO CONFERENCE NOW

Upper House Disposed of Bill After 16-Hour Session.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Nov. 8.—The tax revision bill now faces its third re-writing, this time by the house and senate conferees. The measure finally was passed early today by the senate, 38 to 24, at the end of a continuous session lasting nearly sixteen hours. It will be returned to the house when that body reconvenes tomorrow and Republican leaders there plan to send it to conference Thursday. It may reach the President for his approval late in the month.

As a rough estimate, treasury experts say the bill in its present form would net approximately $3,250,000,000 or $200,000,000 less than the present law and about the amount of revenue which treasury officers have said the government must have.

Eventually the bill, the experts assert, would reduce the nation's tax toll by about $750,000,000 a year. While they undoubtedly will make many changes in the measure, the conferees are not expected to materially alter the total of revenue.

Agree on Three Items
As the bill now stands there are just three major provisions on which the house and senate agree. They are repeal of the excess profits tax and the transportation taxes on next January 1, and the retention of the present tax on corporation capital stock.

Other outstanding provisions of the bill are: A reduction in the maximum surtax rate from 65 per cent on all over $100,000 to 50 per cent on all over $1,000,000. Increased taxes on medicinal beer, wine and whisky.

A provision taxing gifts of property by any person at rates ranging from 1 per cent on the amount between $20,000 and $50,000 to 25 per cent on all over $50,000.

Repeal Excise Taxes
Repeal of the excise taxes on chewing gum, sporting goods, musical instruments, electrical fans and many other articles as well as the stamp taxes on proprietary medicines and toilet preparations. The levies on fountain drinks and ice cream also are cut.

The big fight between the senate and house is expected to develop over the income surtax with the general belief at both ends of the capitol that the conference will reach a compromise at a figure around 40 per cent.

House Republican leaders believe they can squelch the movement among some Republicans from western states to have the house instruct its managers to accept the senate maximum rate.

In the final drive in the senate last night to pass the bill many amendments were offered but few of them were accepted. Most important of those approved was the taxing gifts of property which is designed to prevent evasion of the surtax by wealthy individuals by a distribution of their property among their relatives.

Under another amendment gains realized by the taxpayers from the sale of corporation stock would be taxed on only 40 per cent, as it was claimed would be the case had the capital asset definition in the bill remained unchanged.

Dixon Hunters Find
Snow in Northland
Charles Sheffield, who is with a party of hunters going north into the big woods after deer, writes a friend in Dixon that they reached Deer River, Minn., at 8 p. m. Nov. 6. Deer River is nearly 700 miles from Dixon and the Dixon hunters made good time as they left Dixon the morning of the 5th, making the trip in two days.

The party is composed of Joe Miller, in whose Buick Sedan they are traveling, Angier Wilson, Charles Sheffield and Webster Poole. They are by now encamped on the Bowstring River, in the vicinity of the camp of Dr. Skeels of Dixon. They expect to be away about three weeks. Mr. Sheffield reports 4 inches of snow at Deer River.

JUDGE TO RULE ON INDICTMENT OF MADALYNNE

Asked to Dismiss It; He will Decide Today.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Los Angeles, Nov. 8.—Whether the trial of Arthur C. Burch, charged with the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, insurance broker at Beverly Glen, near here, August 5 last, should proceed immediately or should be continued for a month in order to permit his counsel to obtain evidence in support of their contention he was insane at the time of the alleged murder, was expected to be decided today by Judge Sidney N. Reeve.

The motion for such a continuance and the disclosure that Burch's defense could be insanity followed a ruling yesterday by Judge Reeve that no hearing before a jury on the matter of Burch's mental condition, as asked last week by his attorneys, would be granted, the judge declaring he was convinced Burch was sane.

The long continuance was asked on the ground that a plea of insanity would be made and that it was desired to support it with affidavits from friends and relatives in and around Chicago.

Judge Reeve was also expected today to rule upon a motion of counsel for Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain, jointly indicted with Burch for the murder of Kennedy, that the indictment against her be dismissed for the reason she had not been given a trial within the statutory period of sixty days after having been indicted.

Still another motion made in behalf of Mrs. Obenchain and expected to receive consideration from the court today, was one for her immediate trial.

FAIL TO DISCLOSE DISPOSITION CARGO OF ILICIT LIQUOR

Clinton Paper Doesn't Mention Who Got That Alcohol.

The Clinton Herald of Monday evening tells of the arrest of Edward Jensen of Sioux City, who was arrested at the Iowa end of the Fulton high bridge Saturday night with a cargo of 120 gallons of alcohol, but fails to state what was done with the cargo, other than that State's Attorney McDowell of Ogle county accompanied by a number of county officials came to Clinton Sunday and took charge of Jensen and his possessions.

The following account is given in the Clinton paper:
Edward Jensen, aged 27 years, of Sioux City planned to visit Clinton Saturday night, bringing with him 120 gallons of alcohol. But he was intercepted at the Lyons end of the Lyons and Fulton high bridge at 9:30 o'clock that night by Chief of Police McKinley and Night Captain of Police Oster, who escorted him to jail. They had been warned by the Dixon, Ill., chief of police to watch for him. His partner had been arrested by an Illinois state agent, according to the Dixon chief, but Jensen escaped.

Jensen was traveling in a Cadillac seven passenger touring automobile, in which he was carrying the alcohol. At the police station, when he was searched, he was found to have $541.20 in cash in his pockets. He also had a bank book and a knife. The automobile bore a Michigan license, 330-634.

State's Attorney McDowell of Ogle county, accompanied by a number of county officials, came to Clinton yesterday and took charge of Jensen and his possessions.

WESTERN RAILROADS TAKE STEPS TO GET WAGE REDUCTIONS

Matter to Be Taken Before Labor Board Im- mediately.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Nov. 8.—Managers of the western group of railroads met here yesterday and decided on the immediate posting of notices of wage reductions of 10 per cent, according to an announcement today.

The roads represented at the meeting included the Santa Fe, Great Western, Rock Island, Northwestern, Union Pacific, Northern Pacific and Great Northern.

In the proposed cuts all departments will be affected, and committees were appointed to draft the notices immediately so that the roads may go before the labor board and ask an early hearing.

Following this meeting the National Industrial Traffic League announced that meetings would be held Wednesday to ask that the railroads press their claims for wage reductions on the basis of rate reductions of shippers. The league represents many of the important shippers of the country.

League's Recommendations
Resolutions for presentation to roads have already been drawn and include three salient points:

That railroad wage scales be put on a level corresponding with those of other industries.

That wage reductions and rate reductions take place simultaneously.

Abrogation immediately of national agreements, made effective during the period of federal control.

The labor board has announced that wage reduction arbitrations will not be considered until after it has passed on working rules and schedules but the roads decided to press their wage reduction efforts so that these might be brought to the attention of the board immediately, it was said.

Settlement of the railroad strike vote by the railroad brotherhoods for October 30, followed a statement by the railroad labor board that wage reductions would not be passed on until after questions regarding rules and working conditions had been decided.

Burial in Oakwood
Joseph W. Staples this morning received a telegram from Jacksonville, Fla., containing the sad news of the death of Mrs. Arthur A. Phelps, a former resident of this city, who passed away at her home at Oakland, Fla., Sunday. Mrs. Phelps was stricken with paralysis last Wednesday and died Sunday afternoon. The remains, accompanied by the bereaved husband, will arrive in Dixon at 1:11 tomorrow afternoon, burial to take place in Oakwood.

Mr. Phelps will be remembered as having been associated with the Fargo shoe company during its existence in this city, and later he embarked as a member of the firm of Fargo & Phelps in Chicago in the manufacture of children's shoes. Some years ago he retired from business life and went to Oakland, Fla., where he and his wife have since resided. Mr. Phelps visited in Dixon during the late summer.

A son, Victor Phelps, was killed instantly in January, 1895, in a fall from the ice chute at the old east end ice house in this city.

The mother will be laid to rest beside her son in Oakwood. Beside the bereaved husband, one daughter, Miss Helen, who is in training at a Baltimore hospital, survive.

FOURTEEN AIRPLANES HOP OFF IN Y. M. C. A. MEMBERSHIP CONTEST

Annual Drive Started To- day Following Banquet Monday.

(Contributed)
Fourteen airplanes hopped off last evening in the big transcontinental race from New York to San Francisco that promises to be the feature event of a year of startling surprises. All makes of planes, foreign and domestic are entered and at the start every motor was running smoothly, every pilot and crew was in first class condition and unless unforeseen complications arise there will be rare competition and a neck and neck finish.

Just before the first plane took off the pilots and crews loaded up on a big feed, final instructions, rules and regulations were issued and at 7 o'clock the race was on. A number of the planes under the skillful control of the pilots shot out with a wonderful burst of speed and should they keep up the pace will break all records, establishing one that will stand for years.

The fourteen planes are grouped into two sections, one in charge of I. B. Potter and the other controlled by J. C. Schuele. By this time you will have fallen to the fact that the annual membership campaign of the Y. M. C. A. is on. The race will be run on a point system, each point representing a mile. A new membership counts for 20 miles, a renewal 10 miles, membership paid in full 10 points and partial payments in proportion. In addition each section scores one mile for each dollar collected. The organization of the race is as follows:

Section 1. I. B. Potter, Commander
Plane No. 1.—J. Wilson, Pilot, Orville Hoon, Ed Valle, C. V. Chapman, Herbert Harms, Hugh Miller, W. W. Lehman, W. H. Coppins.

Sensational Turn to Campaign There This Morning.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Louisville, Ky., Nov. 8.—W. Overton Harris, Democratic nominee for mayor of Louisville, started election day early today with a ride from a leading hotel to police headquarters in a patrol wagon, a prisoner. With Mr. Harris on the ride was Dr. H. F. Meehling, Democratic nominee for sheriff of Jefferson county, and several other men. Mr. Harris was slated at police headquarters on charges of disorderly conduct and with interfering with an officer in the discharge of his duty. Dr. Meehling was charged with disorderly conduct.

Late last night went to the hotel to arrest men whom they said had been brought to the city to intimidate voters today. The hotel manager and two employees of the hotel also were arrested and when Dr. Meehling and Mr. Harris protested, they also were taken into custody. Nine other men were arrested.

At police headquarters, James Dixon, a Courier Journal reporter, who had been sent there to investigate, was arrested. He was charged with disorderly conduct, resisting an officer and conspiring to defraud in election.

All of the men were released under bond. Robert W. Bingham, chairman of a committee, recently appointed by Mayor Smith to insure a fair election, assumed charge of the situation early today. He declined to make a statement until he had made a complete investigation.

HONOLULU GIVES A ROYAL WELCOME TO THE PRESS CONGRESS

Mrs. Shaw Writes of En- trance of Newspaper Ship Into Harbor.

The following article is an extract from a letter from Mrs. Mabel E. Shaw, president of the B. F. Shaw Printing company, publishers of The Evening Telegraph, who has been attending the Press Congress of the World in Honolulu as a delegate from the Inland Daily Press association. Mrs. Shaw writes:

The delegates to the Press Congress of the World arrived in Honolulu this morning on the S. S. Matsonia after a six day's voyage on the Pacific. We were given a marvelous welcome, the entertainment beginning about 5 a. m., although we did not land until 10 o'clock.

As we steamed into port squads of army and navy airplanes sailed over the ocean to meet us, and as the planes circled the big ship they dropped garlands of flowers called "lois," which are made of bright, orange colored paper and others of beautiful flowers, and are to be worn around the neck. Attached to these we found cards bearing welcome "aloha" greetings from the people of the islands.

Harbor Gave Warm Welcome.
Many tugs and launches were on parade. One of the official boats, bearing the reception committee, was a gala affair, decorated as it was from stern to bow with gaily colored flags of many nations. Men of prominence in Honolulu affairs were there to give us welcome. Among the party was Mrs. Wilder, a relative of Col. and Mrs. O. J. Downing of Dixon. On another of the boats was a real Hawaiian orchestra of men and women who charmed us with their low, mellow voices accompanied by the alluring sweetness of the ukulele. Then our attention was attracted to four submarines, which submerged for our benefit and after half an hour bobbed.

CRACK C. & N. W. TRAIN HELD UP LATE LAST EVE

Oregon - Washington Limited Passengers Are Robbed.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Boise, Ida., Nov. 8.—With a revolver in each hand, a masked bandit held up the westbound Oregon-Washington Limited on the Oregon Short Line railroad, six miles west of American Falls, last night, robbing the passengers of the observation car of $434.50 and considerable jewelry. Working toward the front of the train he took money and valuables from the frightened passengers. Where he boarded the train no one could tell. As he stepped into the vestibule from the observation car he met the conductor emerging from the car ahead. Evidently fearing opposition from the conductor the bandit made no further effort to advance but forced the rear brakeman to stop the Limited. Jumping from the train he made off disappearing in the direction of Coolidge, a small station two miles distant.

(Editor's Note.—The Oregon-Washington Limited, which was held up at American Falls, Ida., last night, is one of the Northwest's crack transcontinental trains. The train, the passengers of which were robbed, passed through Dixon at 12:32 o'clock Sunday morning.)

WIFE SLAYER WILL BE HANGED IN FIRST AFTERNOON EXECUTION

Cook Co. Jailer Has New Plan for Executing Men.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Nov. 8.—Frank Ligregni, convicted of the murder of his school teacher wife, Genevieve, in a farm house near Bartlett, Ill., last December, will be hanged tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, this being the first time in the history of Chicago that an execution has been set for the afternoon.

Sheriff Charles W. Peters announced the time today and said that he had set the afternoon hour so that every gunman confined in the county jail could get the moral effect of seeing a hanging.

"I have fixed the hour of 4:30 p. m. for the execution of Frank Ligregni," he said, "for the reason that I want every gunman in the county jail to get the moral effect."

Ligregni has used every legal means, including an insanity plea, in his fight for life, all of which failed. This prompted another statement by the chief that hereafter those who plead insanity will be hanged in the afternoon while other condemned criminals will be hanged in the morning.

Favors Public Executions
"In future when a condemned man has exhausted every legal means for his life, executions will take place in the afternoon instead of 7 a. m. as has been the custom," he continued, "when I fixed the morning hour I had a good reason for it—it got away from the law that is now so much abused—the section that provides for an insanity hearing after a sentence of death."

"I favor public executions as a deterrent to crime, although some reform organizations do not. Their objections led me to discontinue allowing desperate gunmen to witness executions."

"At 7 a. m. all prisoners are not awake at 4:30 p. m. they are. I want all the prisoners in the jail to be fully awake and fully realize what is going on."

Real Snow Storm in Iowa During Night

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Des Moines, Iowa, Nov. 8.—A snow-fall of from one half to three inches fell in Iowa last night and this morning, according to reports reaching C. I. Reed, local weather bureau official. While snow was general in practically all parts of the state, he said, it was particularly heavy in the northern part of the state.

IS MOVING EASTWARD.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Omaha, Neb., Nov. 8.—A snow-storm prevailed in parts of Nebraska, Iowa and South Dakota today.

Temperatures went down, although they were not as low as the Omaha weather bureau anticipated yesterday when it predicted the storm. Twenty-two at Valentine was the lowest officially reported for Nebraska. Omaha had 37 at 7 a. m., but later it became colder with prediction for a further drop tonight.

No interruption to railroad or wire traffic was reported. The storm is moving east and south, the bureau said.

TRAINMEN HURT IN GUN BATTLE WITH BANDITS

Ten Thieves Overlook Pouches Contain- ing Fortune.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Nov. 8.—Means of bringing an end to the wave of postal robberies throughout the country were discussed today by President Harding and his cabinet, and it was indicated after the meeting that Postmaster General Hays would probably have a statement to make in the near future on the subject.

BULLETIN.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Nov. 8.—E. A. Gerner, chief postal inspector, at noon announced that the loot obtained by six robbers who held up an Illinois Central train near Paxton, Ill., last night, fought a forty-five minute battle with the train crew and passengers, wounding five men, dynamited and burned the mail car, will total approximately $400.

"They got two pouches of registered mail and overlooked two others," Mr. Gerner said. One of the overlooked is said to have contained $100,000. "In the two they took," Mr. Gerner added, "there was nothing but the ordinary run of registered mail—no bank shipments or other packages of special value. It will take a week to see each individual sender and check up the exact loss, but I estimated it at about $400."

The robbers, who used pistols, sawed off shotguns, dynamite, nitroglycerin and odor bombs, and finally escaped in an automobile, hardly earned expenses, according to Mr. Gerner.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Champaign, Ill., Nov. 8.—Belief that $100,000 in cash was in the mail car of Illinois Central train No. 2, held up near Paxton last night prompted the holdup, according to opinions of railroad men expressed this morning. The bandits missed the most valuable pouch in the car, a railroad official stated, and it was his opinion that it was this particular pouch which was sought.

During the course of the holdup, when the mail clerks were being forced to throw pouches from the car, one of the two threw out a pouch of newspapers.

"Where do you get that stuff?" one of the bandits declared, "You know what pouch we want, throw it out here."

The pouch, believed to contain a fortune in cash, was thrown out of the car, carried a short distance from the train by the bandits, and was for some reason dropped and later recovered by the train crew.

While a posse of deputy sheriffs, railroad agents and postal inspectors were scouring this section of the country, no trace of the bandits was reported this morning. Belief that the men made for the Dixie highway and escaped over that route, prevailed here.

Posses Took Up Search Early Today

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Paxton, Ill., Nov. 8.—Hundreds of men in posses were early today searching for ten bandits who last night held up the Illinois Central New Orleans Limited two miles south of here, wounded four train employees, stole two pouches of registered mail and escaped after setting fire to the mail car. No clue to the men who had been found early today, the only aid in the search of the robbers being a statement by members of the train crew that they headed west in two automobiles after robbing the mail car. The passengers were not molested although one got three bullet holes in his coat when he and three companions went up to the mail car and fired on the bandits while they were fighting the engine crew and two mail clerks, barricaded in the mail car.

A negro train porter was the only man seriously injured by the robbers, he being shot in the chest and groin as he stood on the vestibule of a smoker. The fireman was wounded in the shoulder, a mail clerk was shot in the hand and shoulder and another was clubbed over the head with a revolver.

Covered Engine Crew.
Two of the robbers boarded the train at some point between Chicago and Paxton and covered the engine crew with their weapons as the train was passing through here, according to the report of Division Superintendent J. W. Heveron.

They ordered the train to proceed to a small bridge over a stream two miles farther south where the train was stopped in such a manner that

Six Dead, Five Injured in Election Fight in Kentucky

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Jackson, Ky., Nov. 8.—Six men were killed and five others were wounded in an election fight shortly after the polls opened at the Clayhole voting precinct on Troublesome Creek, Breathitt county, about 15 miles from here today.
A special train has been sent from Jackson with physicians to attend the wounded.

The story of the affair as it reached Jackson was that Ed Combs, and defeated Democratic candidate in the August primary for county judge, was active in support of the Republican nominee for the same office, Combs, it was said, entered the polling place today and attempted to give orders to the election officers. His relatives, according to the story, were quarreled with him and out of the argument grew a fight in which shooting became general.

Cities Urged to Remove Danger of Bread Lines

By Municipal Cooperation on Jobless Problem

Do you want a bread line like this in your town all winter?

This scene on the streets of New York is typical of what may happen through the United States, and happen soon, unless the whole nation, through its municipalities, organizes to ward off the unemployment crisis, conservatively estimated as likely to affect 4,000,000 men and their families.

President Harding, during the recent national conference at Washington on unemployment, appealed to the Mayors of every city to organize emergency committees, combining all the interests of the community in a concerted machine to create work for the idle.

Spur-up campaigns, a public employment bureau, repairs in streets and public buildings, direction of welfare efforts to jobs instead of hand-outs and the stimulation of industry in every possible way are among the steps recommended by the conference.

Nationally, many moves have been made by the Government to relieve the situation. Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce and chairman of the President's Unemployment Conference, has conferred with the heads of the nation's major industries and has secured pledges of cooperation. Legislation looking toward permanent betterment of conditions was recommended by the conference, and specific subjects for such legislation were pointed out.

Every element of the national conference agreed, however, that municipal action is the real hope so far as the emergency is concerned.

Mayors and members of municipal emergency committees throughout the country have been invited to make full use of the hold-over committee, under Colonel Arthur Woods, which will function in the Department of Commerce as a coordinating agency for the ideas and action of local units.

"There can be no crisis in peace-time more deserving of every man's brains and energy than this present unemployment situation," Colonel Woods said in a recent address, "and the only solution is for the nation to rise to the emergency as it did in the crucial days of the war. The bureau in Washington is going to devote itself to practical suggestion and coordination, not theory, and we hope the country will use it freely. This drive is one that no citizen and no community can afford to neglect."

in my ribs, pushed a flashlight into my hands.

"Show them who you are," he commanded.

"The flashlight felt like fire in my hands as I pushed the button. 'Don't shoot, I'm the engineer,' I cried out.

"The mail clerks slammed the door shut. The bandits waited a short time, then they placed a stick of dynamite under the mail car. It wasn't strong enough to wreck the car, but another opened the door.

"A moment later one of the mail clerks was lying to one side with a gash in his head and the other was standing with his arms high in the air alongside the car. Two of the men blew the safe. The fireman and I were forced to lie flat on the bottom of the car while the bandits worked.

"By this time the passengers were firing in our direction. From the cars in front armed guards poured a stream of bullets toward the mail car, flames from gasoline or waste, ignited by the explosions began to light up the interior of the car. They made us throw out patches.

"Something had to be done. I looked at Banks, the fireman, who was laying a short distance from me. He signalled to jump and we both ran for the engine. He was shot as we ran, but I was untouched. I crawled beneath the pilot of the engine. Banks and another man, I don't know who it was, was with me.

"Under there we were partly protected from the bandits, but the stray bullets fired by passengers partly endangered us. As the light from the burning fire mounted, the bandits, either frightened or satisfied with what they had found, slowly backed to the end of the bridge and leaped into the darkness. Then I heard an automobile start and they were gone."

Due to the membership banquet the Canaries was spilled the Bluebirds 22 to 0. The Bluebirds' defeat was due mainly to the absence of several of their best players who for some reason or other were unable to play. K. Bovey was again the star for the Canaries making 13 of her team's points.

The second game was a real one in which the Nightingales and the Orioles battled through four scoreless quarters and it wasn't till an extra five minute session was played that a point was made, a free throw by C. Pollack, winning the game for the Orioles, 1 to 0.

The press agent of the Eagles football team wants a correction made of the score of the Saturday afternoon game which was called on account of darkness. He claims that his team was leading 12-6, the report being that St. Mary's was in the van.

Railroad Officials Attended Funeral of Col. Webb Yesterday

The remains of the late Col. George H. Webb, chief engineer of the Michigan Central railway, were laid to rest by the side of his wife in Oakwood cemetery yesterday. The body arrived over the Northwestern in the private car of the deceased and was accompanied by many officials of the New York Central and Michigan Central lines. Vice-President Starbuck of the New York Central lines, who for several years had been associated with the deceased, accompanied the remains.

It was through the efforts of Col. Webb, that Mr. Starbuck rose to the position of prominence in the railroad circles which he now holds. Mr. Starbuck was associated with the engineering department of the Michigan Central for years, and at a time when the deceased was offered a vice presidency of the New York Central lines, he declined the position, choosing to remain in the engineering department and selecting Mr. Starbuck to this responsible and important position.

Landis Asks Union Heads to Set Wage Minimums Desired

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Nov. 8.—Building trades workers here whose wage controversies have kept construction almost at a standstill all year were asked today by Judge Landis, as arbitrator, to draw up rates of pay which they consider fair for each other.

"I have been deluged with information by members of the various unions as to what the other unions are entitled to in wages," the judge said. "I want this information officially."

President Thomas Kearney of the Building Trades Council promised to have the report ready for the judge by Wednesday.

LIVE NEWS FROM DEMENTTOWN

Always Fresh and Wholesome
"A LIVE TOWN OF OUR OWN"

Don't crab about this weather, the sun will shine again. The Avenue certainly did have a gloomy aspect this morning. The old-timers gathered about the stoves in the various business places and exchanged yarns—told about the times years ago, and smoked pipes. There was no special subject discussed, but some wanted to know when the price of eggs would drop and some declared that while eggs kept up he would continue to eat beef liver. We would suggest that you try calves brains for a change for they are selling on the Avenue at 15 cents a pound.

We were delighted to greet our old friend, W. W. Woolley on the Avenue yesterday. Bill has kept off the Avenue for a long time, yet years ago he was a railroad freight hustler, during the days when his father was agent for the Central. But those were in the days of short pants, eh Bill?

"Hickory, hickory, dock."
"The mouse ran up the clock."

But that is not exactly the way Jack Keenan would say it, he would say it in a more modern manner. Why? Just because the other morning when Jack arrived at his barber shop he felt something up his coat sleeve near his shoulder and upon careful investigation he found it was a mouse. He brought the mouse from his home, thus making one mouse short in his clothes closet.

Otto Beier was on the Avenue this morning, running to catch a train for the city.

Clayton Royer, former clothing merchant from Morrison, visited the Avenue this morning on his way to Freeport. We were mighty glad to see Mr. Royer for in the years of our youth Clayton was one of our pupils in a school near Sterling. Clayton is now a married man with children of his own.

John Weitzel had to run to catch a train for Chicago this morning. This kind of weather is the kind that makes us wish to remain in bed mornings.

A. B. Whitcombe was an Avenue visitor early this morning.

Alfred Leland of the plow company has gone to Racine on business.

For Sale—A modern bungalow, 5 rooms and bath. A bargain. W. H. Flemming.

Frank Stephen of the plow company is ill today and unable to take care of his work.

Everyone on the Avenue attended the Knights bazaar last night—but but Sagwa who had another of his pressing business engagements.

"Where's Bill Teschendorff?" went over the Avenue yesterday afternoon. Men went out to make a search for the butcher and none could locate him. Later he was found in the ice box. While Bill went into the box to get some meat, one of his clerks bolted the door of the box by mistake. Bill declared he yelled for thirty minutes, for help. His condition is improved this morning.

Ray Huggins has resigned his position with the Universal Oats company and has accepted a position with the Brown Shoe Co.

Will Sherry, one of our cobblers, has gone to the hospital for treatment. During his absence from his business Thomas Drew will conduct it.

Miss Ruth Huggins came up from Sterling to attend a 500 party, given by one of her friends.

James Mocklin, general foreman at the Universal Oats Company's plant, has resumed his work after an illness of several weeks.

Harry Schuler of the Public Supply company, has taken a venture into the chicken business. He has purchased a number of "Blue Andalusian" hens. Harry spent about two months building a coop.

Agent C. G. Shepherd of the Central entertained over Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Grouch and family of Mendota.

P. J. Phalen of the Illinois Central freight office-force was taken suddenly ill yesterday afternoon and had to go home.

The fire boys were at the Central freight yards filling a large water tank car with water for the Western Union workmen. The car is used to carry water for drinking and cooking. The Western Union has a force of fourteen men in Dixon setting poles and stringing wires, repairing the damage done by the sleet storm some months ago. They carry a sleeper, dining car, tool car, supply car, and a tank car.

David Law of the Public Supply Co. has received a letter from his son, David Law, Jr., who is a Corporal in the United States Marine Corps, stationed at Quantico, Va. The son says that he is well and enjoying his service immensely. David is in charge of his crew, the aviation crew, for he is serving in the aviation division of the Corps. He writes that he is flying nearly every day, for he is a mechanic, and always accompanies a pilot in the air.

All the Avenue folk are working hard for their young lady whom they expect to make the queen of the Mardo Gras.

Our coal men were busy, especially this morning. They will be several days behind with their orders.

LEGION FACES TWO HARD GAMES FRIDAY AND NEXT SABBATH

Meet Rochelle Friday, Lyons Team Comes Here Sunday.

The Lyons Bull Dogs, a hard fighting football organization will come to Dixon next Sunday afternoon to meet the American Legion eleven of this city at Brown's Field. Manager Simmons has closed plans for the game with the management of the Bull Dogs, following the cancelling of all games on the Morrison schedule. The Morrison team was originally scheduled to play here next Sunday.

The Bull Dogs appear to be all that name implies. Last Sunday they went to Davenport and met the Tiger organization from that city, which was seen in action here three weeks ago. The Bull Dogs forced the Tigers to their lair by a 14 to 0 count.

The Bull Dogs are composed of players from Clinton and Lyons and have a battling eleven, according to all reports, and will give the Legion a real contest on Sunday afternoon.

Prepare for Rochelle

Coach Dixon is holding daily practice this week at the Legion hall putting his team into shape for the contest with the Rochelle Legion on Friday afternoon, Armistice Day. Rochelle is reported to have secured a number of outside stars who will appear in the line Friday afternoon.

Injuries sustained by Gillilan and Hess in Sunday's game with the Mendota Legion may slow up these two men upon whom much responsibility has rested. The attending physician reported yesterday that Gill's injuries might mend sufficiently to permit his taking part in some of Friday's game, and that Hess might also be able to get into the fray for a part of the game. Neither of the two men can be completely recovered from their injuries, but both are anxious to assist in defeating Rochelle in this one of the most important games of the season.

He may wear a last year's straw hat, his finger nails may need manicuring; his vest may hang a little loose, and his pants may bag at the knees; his face may show signs of a second day's growth, and the tin dinner bucket he carries may be full of dents and doughnuts, but don't you call him "the old man." He's your father.

For years and years, he has been rustling around to get things together. Never once has he failed to do the right thing by you. He thinks you are the greatest boy on earth bar none, even though you plaster
your hair back, wear smart clothes, smoke cigarettes, and fail to bring home a cent. He is the man who won the love and life partnership of the treatest woman on earth, your mother.

He is "some man" and not "the old man." If you win as good a wife as he did, you will have to go some, boy.
The Silent Partner.

MONKEY'S INVENTION

A highly intelligent orang-utan—possibly the long-sought missing link between monkey and man—creates a sensation in the New York Zoological Gardens.

The orang-utan is an anthropoid ape, the kind told about in the Tarzan stories. It has small ears, very little hair, and is about two-thirds as big as a gorilla. It's so much like a human that Malay natives gave it the name, orang-utan, which means
"man of the woods."

Orang-utan in the New York zoo, wanting to get out of its cage, hit on the idea of ripping down its steel trapeze bar and using it to pry the cage bars apart.

"It has discovered the principle of the lever," says Dr. W. T. Hornaday, the zoo's director. "Finding that it didn't have enough strength to use the lever, it summoned another orang-utan to help it."

Scientists now will debate whether the orang-utan conceived the idea of the lever, or whether it was just imitating what it has seen some man do.

Having discovered the principle of the lever, crowbar, the orang-utan is well on the way toward civilization.

Civilization, as modern man defines it, rests on machinery. Take all machinery away (all mechanical devices and all of us soon would be living in the trees and caves.

All mechanical movements are based on applications of the principles of the wheel and wedge and the lever used by the caged monkey.

If the orang-utan can figure out the wheel and wedge, it's just a question of time until the jungle monsters will have their own automobiles. That is how man started.

How did man happen to discover the lifting power of the lever? Probably like this: He tried to lift a heavy log and couldn't. Exhausted, he sat down to rest on a smaller log thrust crowbar-fashion under the big log. Up went the big log, under his weight. That mystery clung in the primitive man's mind. Finally he figured it out and applied it.

The wedge principle probably came to him at last by pondering how his wedge-shaped teeth split a bone with ease.

And the wheel principle probably came when he sat on a loose round stone and noticed that it carried him with it easily when it rolled.

If the truth were known, all other human discoveries also have been the result of accident, which is nature's way of periodically unlocking another of her secrets to make it available for us.

More power to you Mr. Orang-utan
In your experiments with the lever,
we see a picture of our ancestors emerging from barbarism.

UNITY

Eighty billion dollars is invested in the farming industry. That is more than is tied up in railroads and manufacturing combined. William M.
Wood, president of the American Woolen Co., tells this to a farmers' meeting. He points out that all interdependent, what happens to one affecting all.

Wood's point is that industries
should pull together.

Individuals are equally interdependent. Man who has a job may not be worrying about unemployment.
He should be, for his job would be safer and pay more if all were working.

Break the mainspring of your watch, and the whole works stops.
Depression, in business affects all,
just as quickly.

HUSBANDS

An ash man, Marinelli Russell, died from injuries received in an accident in the shaft of a sidewalk elevator in New York. This was on property owned by Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, who is sued for $250,000 damages
by Russell's widow.

What is your husband worth to you? What do you value him at?
Countless millions of dollars, many a wife will answer. About 30 cents would be the answer of some wives
if they told the truth.

JAGS

More drunkenness in America than anywhere else in the world, says Gaston Monnet, traveling investigator for a French brandy concern.

Come back in 10 years, my dear
Gaston. Drunks will be rare then.
An evil thousands of years old can't be wiped out over night.

Most jags now come from homemade hooch. After the novelty wears off, cellar chemists will decide it's more bother than it's worth.

ORDERS

Franklin Automobile company says
its recent price cut increased orders 24 per cent.

An eastern textile company, flooded with orders, experimented by raising its prices. Orders stopped coming.

Business revival awaits only lowering of prices—especially rents and freight rates.

KABER

In the Ohio Reformatory for Women a plot is bared by which bribery and murder were to be used to free Mrs. Eva Katherine Kaber, serving a life term for husband-murder.

The venture was to be financed out of a $50,000 fund which Mrs. Kaber claims a movie company had offered for a film of the story of her life.

The Arbuckle case has started a movement to houseclean the movies.
First thing hit by the broom should be the exploitation of criminals and scandal-characters in films. State legislatures should bar such films.

Berton Bruley's
Daily Poem
The PRIMAL GLAMOR

There is a little lake, I know,
A lake of azure, cool and clear,
Where slim canoes slip to and fro
With rippling music, sweet to hear;
At night the silver moonlight gleams
On wavelets crinkling over sand,
It is a spot of drowsy dreams.

But somehow blown across the land
From far, far off, there comes to me
The great green magic of the sea.

Mountains with peaks of dazzling white
That rear themselves against the sky

Wake in my heart a brave delight:
Forests of pine trees towering high
Stir me with wonder and with awe,
And desert stretches hold a thrill
Of color barbarous and raw;

But there's a spell beyond them all,
A lure of space and mystery,
The great green magic of the sea!

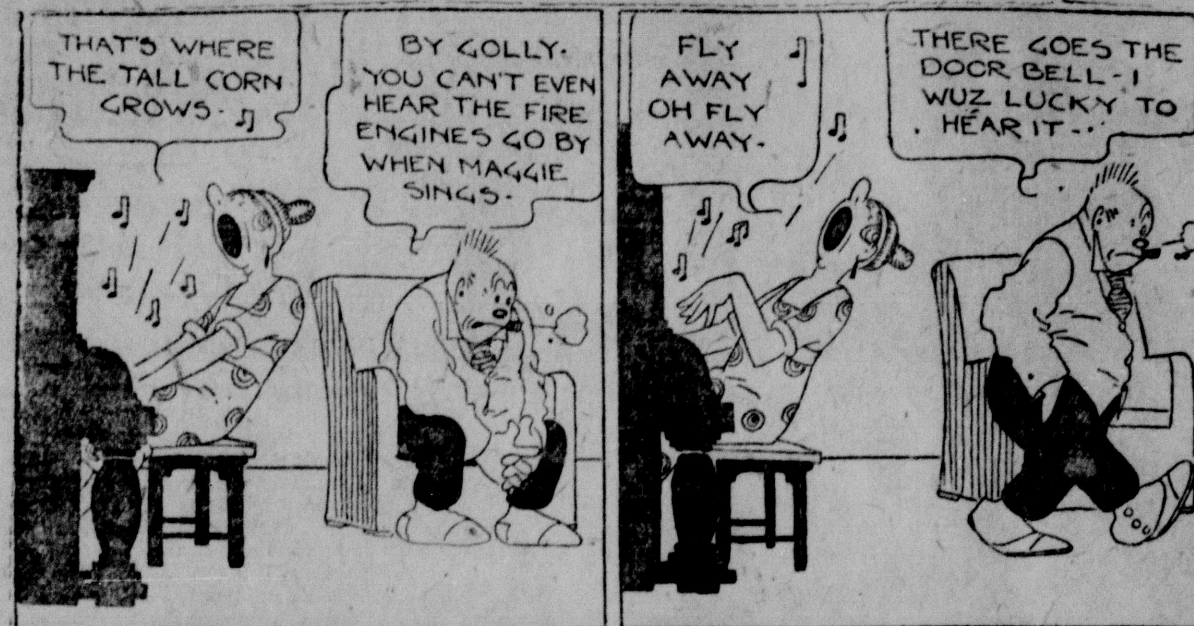

The sea, the cruel, tender sea
Eternal, yet forever strange,
Restless and turbulent and free,
With mighty moods that shift and change

From rage to calm, from love to hate
The sea, that surges round that world,
Calling to high enterprise and great,
Where long waves roar and tides
are swirled;

Oh, glamor that man may not flee—
The great green magic of the sea!

BRINGING UP FATHER

THE COSTS OF WAR

BY DR. WM. E. BARTON.

There is a new book about the cost of the war. Prof. Ernest L. Bogart of the University of Illinois is more than an academic student of costs, for he was once trade adviser to the State Department at Washington, and knows about government statistics.

The figures which Prof. Bogart gives surpass the ability of any of us to understand, but the Wall Street Journal commends him for being so conservative. Prof. Bogart says that the cost of the war to the United States was only 32 billions of dollars and not 44 billions as was recently stated to the Senate.

For this relief, much thanks. The difference is 12 billions and that is all to the good. Those of us who have to pay the debt, a little of it in our income tax and a great deal of it in everything else we eat and wear, are in position to appreciate a saving of a little more like 12 thousand millions of dollars.

But what does 32 billions of dollars mean? It means a heavy burden upon industry and education and religion and philanthropy for a hundred years. The last of this debt will not be paid by us or by our children or our grandchildren.

And as for Europe, Prof. Bogart's figures still are said to be conservative, but he makes a total cost of the war $185,000,000,000. So far as some of those nations are concerned, you might just as well add a few more cyphers while you are about it; more can never pay it.

But it must be paid, every dollar of it, and a hundred years of interest besides.

Comes now Mr. Harding of Wash-

WILLIAM E. BARTON.

ington, and says to the other nations
than the United States—

"We think this waste has gone on long enough. But we see you are getting ready to waste some more. Very well, if that is the program, we are as well prepared to waste money in that way as any other nation, and we will match you, ship for ship and gun for gun. But we think there is a better way. Come, let us sit down and discover it, and mutually agree to reduce our armaments."

Now on that proposition I am for Mr. Harding. More power to him!

big powers that still have peace-time conscription.

The Japanese attitude probably is that, in an emergency, Japan could build battleships faster than armies.
Also, battleships wouldn't be any good at putting down revolutions against Mikados.

HUBBY

Before Mrs. Richard Kaufman, of Chicago, married, her husband promised to wash the dishes every night.
She has just had him arrested for the fourth time for breaking his promise. The judge holds that the promise is binding, and Richard goes back to the dish pan under a $50 peace bond.

Do you remember the promises you made your fiancée before marriage?
How many have you kept? A little louder please!

JAPAN

A peculiar angle of disarmament is that Japanese newspapers think limitation of armies will cause more argument than the naval end, at the Washington conference.

CONFESSIONS OF A MOVIE STAR

Chapter XX
THREE WOMEN AGREE ABOUT LOVE

"What's the big hurt in love?" I asked.

Motherdear flushed. Sometimes I think she has, at her age, more feeling than I, who am supposed to be entering the silly, sentimental period of girlhood.

"Since you ask, you must be old enough to guess, May."

"But I can't guess! So tell me!"

"Forgetting!"

"Forgetting? The pain of loving is forgetting? Then Ginette was right."

"What did Ginette say?"

"That Cissy is a piker."

Motherdear scowled. I hastened to explain:

"I don't like the word any better than you do. It's Ginette's idea of 'forgetting' in love."

"If you know what you're talking about, be definite."

"The other day Ginette was talking to a bunch of the women and she called Cissy a piker, and Rose remarked, 'So he's passed you up, has he?' And Ginette said, 'I should worry! Love always passes!' Is it true, Motherdear? Or were they talking to frighten me?"

"I think the girls were in earnest!"

Motherdear admitted.

"But is it true? Or only true for Ginette? And for Rose?"

"It's true for many men and women, dear! Since you ask, you're old enough to hear the truth."

"Then why—why let myself fall in love? If it isn't going to last, why let it begin?"

"That's quite an idea!" Motherdear smiled sadly. "Perhaps it would be best for you not to be looking for love, all your waking hours, as most girls are doing. Your doubt might shield you from some silly affairs and it never could frighten true love away!"

"But—how will I know—when the right love has arrived?"

"Before I answer that, little girl, think of what happened this afternoon. You say poor Cissy was quite in earnest; nevertheless, you kept seeing the situation as if it were a play?"

I nodded.

"You never forgot your role one single minute?"

"Not a second."

"Well, as long as you take proposals that way, I don't think you'd better accept any man!"

"As long as I can see myself and my suitor objectively, I'll not be really in love!"

"That might be an excellent test."

"How will I know, then? How will I know?"

Motherdear mused before she replied:

"When you forget yourself absolutely. When you no longer see yourself as a picture in a frame, or an actress on a set. When you think only of the man who is talking to you —and never of yourself!"

"Nothing like that has ever happened to me yet, Motherdear."

"When it does, you will have said
'yes' before you know it."

I did not sleep very well that night.

Always and always I kept thinking that if three women as different as Motherdear and Ginette and Rose would agree on any one idea about love, it must be true.

If they agreed that love passes,
why—why should I let love bother me?

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well

OVERWORK

BY R. H. BISHOP JR., M. D.

Most people who believe themselves in ill health because they are "overworked" are really simply the victims of bad air, poor diet, poisons or worry. They attribute their lack of normal good health to work, which to them has become too great a burden simply because they have not continued to observe the few rules of health, or never learned to observe them at all.

The truth of the matter is that they merely need to give their bodies the rest, food, air and exercise that they demand. It is true, too, that they undoubtedly tax their capacity for work beyond the powers of the body, but their working capacity is only a fraction of what it would be if they took exercise, were not constipated, did not eat too much, or ceased to worry continually.

Of course, there are many cases of true overwork. But if one will use a little observation, he will notice that the men who are the most efficient, who get the most work done, those whom others regard as "live wires" are most careful about their daily health habits.

There are a number of simple rules easily remembered that are recommended by the Life Extension Institute. They are:

Ventilate every room you occupy.

Wear light, loose and porous cloth-

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Such a sight met their eyes!

"Goodness!" cried Nancy, looking this way and that way and every-which-way under the water for the gadabout wives. "Where can they be, Nick?"

"Well," answered Nick, "wherever they are, they must all be together.
Whatever is keeping one, must be keeping them all."

Suddenly Nancy said "Listen!" and held up a warning finger. Nick heard something, too. So they slipped off quietly through the water in their Green Shoes toward the place where the sounds were coming from, and peeped through a tangle of pop-weed.

Such a sight met their eyes! And such a noise met their ears! It was worse than a meeting of the "Tuesday Laquer Club." Mrs. Cork-wing was saying, "Yes, but the fashion is to be thin and supple and wear tight-fitting clothes like mine. Also sequins (fish scales) are all out of style! And pale yellow is the shade for this season, so I'm the most fashionable.

You'd better vote for me!"

"Humph!" cried Mrs. Two-Spot Goby. "One color! Why I'm four colors! And look at the lovely spots I've got! Two on each side. No, you'd better vote for me!"

"Spots!" interrupted Mrs. Wrasse or Mrs. Rock-Fish, which she preferred on her calling cards. "Why I'm polka-dotted with them. Just right! And striped, too, as well as being every color. You'd better vote for me!"

"Oh, but you're blind. You can scarcely see," said Mrs. Blenny, turning up her nose. "No, as I have the best sense and can stand up for my rights, I'd make the best president.
Besides, I can turn my eyes in different directions at once, and can see everything."

Wasn't it the limit?

EDITORIAL COMMENT ON DEATH OF WOMAN LOVED BY CHILDREN

Decatur Herald Mourns
Passing of Mrs. Clifton
Hatch There.

Commenting editorially on the death of Mrs. Clifton Hatch, former Dixon lady, who passed away while occupying the post of matron of the Illinois Pythian Home at Decatur, the Herald of that city says:

It was not enough for Mrs. Clifton Hatch that she should be a good housekeeper of the Pythian Home or even a kind friend to children. Her's was not one of the natures that was concerned with grudging minimums. Many a young man and woman can testify today amid tears that she filled a mother's place, and that the home was relieved of the institutional atmosphere because of the sweetness and light that she radiated.

It happened that with her tenderness and sympathy she had talents. Of these she gave unreservedly. There are few pictures that will linger longer in memory than that of Mrs. Hatch at the piano surrounded by the boys and girls who were taking their first steps in musicianship. It was not sufficient that she should encourage them to go forward in the development of their personalities; she must lead them; she must share the experience with them.

The Herald has said, before that the conduct of the Pythian home under Mr. and Mrs. Hatch has been a community joy and satisfaction. How deep the sorrow when so children are bereft of her who stood in the place of a mother.

Pythians Attend Rites

Following funeral services at Decatur the remains were brought to Dixon for burial, the children of the Pythian Home marching to the depot and demonstrating their profound and deep sorrow because of her death. Prominent Pythians of the state who attended the funeral at Decatur and here were: S. Y. Whitlock, grand chancellor, and wife of Tuscola; Dr. James G. Whiting, Rockford; Thomas Williamson, Edwardsville; E. E. Bone, Springfield; John J. Reeve, Jacksonville; S. L. Von Fossen, Beardstown; L. C. Hay, Bloomington, all past grand chancellors; Mrs. John J. Reeve, Jacksonville; John J. Brown, past supreme chancellor, Vandalia; N. M. Green, Chicago; W. G. Sawin, of Mattoon; Arthur Johnson, Chicago; Jesse K. Payton, Springfield, all members of the home board; Mrs. Sawin, Mattoon; Jesse J. Winters, Carbondale; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Kent, Peoria; Harry J. Samuel, Peoria; Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Clark, Springfield; E. R. Wright, Taylorville; James E. Dettlinger, grand inner guard, Bushnell; Dr. A. E. Walters, Springfield; W. T. Fossett, grand trustee, Springfield; W. L. Patterson, Macon; Miss Doris Driscoll, Peoria, and Miss Cora Beckhart of Monticello.

The pallbearers were Dr. James G. Whiting, of Rockford, Jesse K. Payton of Springfield, E. R. Wright of Taylorville, Owen Scott of Decatur, N. M. Green of Chicago and Jesse J. Winters of Carbondale. All of these, with the exception of Dr. Whiting, were members of the Pythian home board at the time Mr. and Mrs. Hatch went to Decatur and were responsible for their selection.

THE BIG FIVE AT THE WASHINGTON DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE

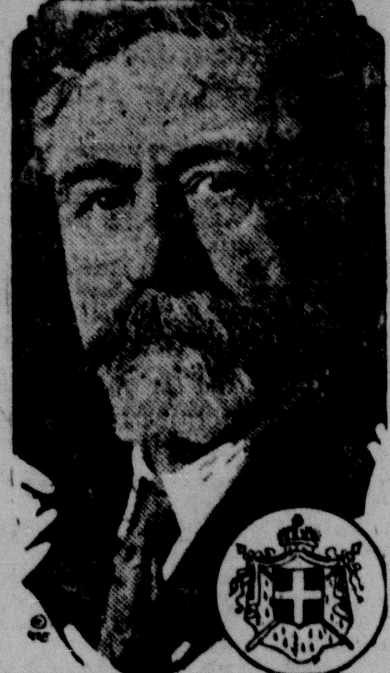

CHARLES EVANS HUGHES, secretary of state, is most famous as an expert in commercial law and jurisprudence. He was born 59 years ago at Glens Falls, N. Y., and was educated at Colgate, Brown and Columbia universities. His name first became known nationally in 1905, when he proved the consolidated gas companies of New York a monopoly. In 1906 he was elected governor of New York and was re-elected in 1908. President Taft appointed him justice of the Supreme court before his term expired. Hughes resigned in 1916 to accept the Republican nomination for president, but was defeated by President Wilson. With the inauguration of President Harding, Hughes became secretary of state. He still clings to one ambition, that of becoming chief justice of the Supreme court.

ARISTIDE BRIAND, premier of France, comes here as leader of France's delegation with the full support and confidence of his people. Like Lloyd George, he is of Celtic origin a native of Brittany. He is of medium stature, with bushy, iron-gray hair, modest and shy of publicity. Briand is 59 years of age. At 30 he was apparently a failure at law, but in the last quarter century he has four times filled ministerial positions and has headed the cabinet six times. As minister of public instruction in 1906 he handled the law by which the church and state were finally separated. He first became premier in 1909. In January of this year he formed his sixth ministry with the promise of obtaining full reparation from Germany, according to the terms of the peace treaty.

PRINCE IYESATO TAKUGAWA, heads the Japanese delegation at the disarmament conference. Due to the importance of the Pacific question at this time, international experts see in him the man on whom will depend the success of the meeting in Washington. He was born in 1863 at Tokyo, and at the age of five was adopted as heir by the last of the Tokugawa Shoguns, a year after the shogunate had surrendered its regency to the imperial court. Before he became prince, he had gained an education in England which gave him a broad insight into international affairs. This view was broadened still more when the prince toured the United States and Europe in 1910. At that time he had reached his seventh year as president of the Japanese house of peers. He still holds that office.

VITTORIO ROLANDI RICCI, Italian ambassador to the United States and leading Italian representative at the disarmament conference, is one of the best known lawyers in his country. He is an expert in commercial, maritime and mercantile law. Although he has a right to the title of marquis, he has never used it. His fortune is estimated at 10,000,000 lire ($2,000,000), which he accumulated from a modest beginning. Ricci did not participate in politics until 1912, when Premier Giolitti nominated him senator. As such he drafted bills on mercantile marine and on state ownership of water power. He represented Italy at the famous international conference on commercial affairs. Now at the age of 61, he has abandoned his profession entirely for politics.

DAVID LLOYD GEORGE, premier of Great Britain, is expected to be the dominant personality at the disarmament conference. Born 58 years ago of Welsh stock, he gained early recognition by championing the rights of the common people. He first became nationally famous when he opposed the Boer War. From the time he was elected to Parliament in 1890 he carried on his fight for reforms. He was chancellor of the exchequer from 1908 to 1915, then minister of munitions until 1916, when he was named secretary of state for war in the coalition cabinet. That year he became prime minister. He was a dominant figure at the allied peace conference in Paris. Since then he has been taken up with problems of securing peace in Ireland and relieving the unemployment situation.

LEADING BANKER OF JAPAN SAYS PEOPLE CAN'T BE MIGRATED

Talks of Economic Desires of People of His Nation.

Washington, Nov. 8.—(By the Associated Press)—The Japanese nation is really unfit for migrating abroad, declared Governor J. Inouye of the Bank of Japan, in discussing the question, "What does Japan want economically?" as related to the Washington armament conference at which he is one of the leading Japanese delegates.

"As historically proven," said Governor Inouye, who is regarded as Japan's greatest authority on finance and economy, "it is almost hopeless to think of removing our increasing population to other countries."

"Our population is increasing by over 600,000 yearly but foodstuffs cannot be increased in quantities sufficient to meet such a rapidly augmenting population. We have at present about 4,000,000 spindles in cotton mills, but no picul or raw cotton can be obtained in this country.

"Such being the case, there is no other way for Japan to solve such a vital problem concerning the economic existence of the nation than to find resources in economic activity abroad, and this very activity of Japanese towards settling the question of her economic existence will naturally be admitted by all other nations."

From this economic activity, however, Japan should not be misunderstood, as insisting on territorial exclusion, indeed there is not the faintest shadow of doubt that Japan has no intention to exclude the trade enterprises of other nations.

"Japan has sometimes been described as being a nation of militarists or as cherishing territorial ambition. In connection with the causes of such misunderstandings, we only admit that Japan has often fallen into error in the past; that is, Japan has made not a little mistake in her policy in Manchuria and Mongolia, and also in China. But now, as the people of Japan have already awakened to the situation, I think the Japan will not repeat the same mistake in the future."

up serenely. There were other war craft in the form of diving torpedo boat destroyers and mine planters.

Liked Native Boats.
The outrigger canoes, about 30 feet in length and just wide enough for a slim man to sit in caught our fancy. They were most artistic in design and each carried six tall men, slender, athletic and graceful in movement as they went headlong into the crystal-clear sea and caught the coins thrown them by the passengers.

At one point all the boats in the harbor blew their whistles, creating a perfect din. Such was our entrance to the beautiful harbor of Honolulu, amid the cheers of thousands who had gathered on the docks to bid us welcome.

Children Sing For Them.
There were groups from all nations awaiting us. Hawaiian and Japanese school children sang their native songs. It was a great and royal welcome to the land of Paradise of which we had read so much and knew so little and we were thrilled beyond expression.

As we passed down the gang plank we heard our name called in a familiar voice and a "let" was placed around our neck by Mrs. Lathan, who was Miss Zoe Osborn when she lived in Dixon. It was a very delightful and pleasing experience.

Motors awaited us and we were driven to the Moana Hotel, a charming place with the Pacific at its door. We have just had luncheon, walked through the gardens of the hotel under the shade of the beautiful palms and we are refreshed and ready for anything.

At three this afternoon a reception will be given the 250 delegates and others by Governor Wallace R. Farrington at the Palace of the late "Queen Lili" and this evening we are to be tendered a banquet by the Honolulu Committee at the Moana Hotel.

Cruise Among the Islands.
Tomorrow we leave on the S. S. Matsonia for a five-day cruise of the groups of Islands. We will visit the active volcanoes, Mauna Loa and Kilauea. Every moment of the five days will be spent in sightseeing and we are told that much is in store for us.

Fine Trip Across.
From San Francisco to Honolulu the steamer Matsonia, a seventeen thousand ton boat of beautiful design and equipment and with every modern convenience and comfort, we made the six-day voyage. Much entertainment was planned by the management for the pleasure of their guests. Special dinners are given. If you happen to have a birthday and the gallant steward hears of it the result is a birthday cake, three stories and a basement, curley-cue frosting, candles and all. They did not accord this honor to the writer, however.

A Banquet That Was Almost a Tragedy

"Three years ago at a banquet I was stricken with acute indigestion. Two doctors worked over me for an hour before I came to. I had had severe colic attacks before, but nothing like that. No doctors or medicine gave me permanent help until a friend, who was at the banquet, advised me to take a course of May's Wonderful Remedy, which I did with wonderful results." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.—Adv.

The supply of candles would not stand the strain.

The menus are most elaborate. They don't mean much if your appetite is somewhat upset (putting it mildly), but here is a sample of what you could eat if you were a good sailor: The following menu is that of the Captain's dinner the last night. Quite a gay affair. At each plate is a favor, which proves to be a paper hat. At the close of the meal toy balloons are tossed by the score and kept in motion by the guests at the dinner tables. A Hawaiian orchestra plays during the dinner hour each day:

Sports On Shipboard.
You can get all the exercise you wish. Six times around the ship means a mile's walk. Then the deck sports were many—golf, shuffle board, etc. To make it more interesting there were contests, with beautiful prizes. Everything was done to promote the happiness and enjoyment of the passengers.

Sunday evening we had devotional exercises, choir and all. Mrs. Lawson, wife of Col. Lawson, nephew of the owner of the London Times, sang a solo. Col. and Mrs. Lawson were great favorites and they seemed to enjoy our American free and easy ways.

Peggie's Thriller.
Perhaps the most thrilling incident of the voyage was the stunt by the movie actress, Peggy Aldrich, who starred in "The Black Lily." In mid-ocean, 1,000 miles from Honolulu, she, together with an officer and six sailors, were placed in a life boat from the S. S. Maui and after one and one-half hours, in a severe wind and rain storm, she reached our ship. The distance between the two ships was about a half mile. Several times they lost their way. Dazzled by the great search lights of the two ships and with their little boat being tossed about by the high waves like a cork, it was hard to distinguish the sister ships one from the other, and after being on the water 15 minutes they found themselves back at the side of the ship from which they started.

MOTHER, QUICK! GIVE CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP FOR CHILD'S BOWELS

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste from the tender, little bowels and gives you a well, playful child again. Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "CALIFORNIA" or you may get a imitation fig syrup.—Adv.

This thrilling, daring and spectacular venture was witnessed by the passengers on the Matsonia and the Maui and when Peggie was lifted from the little boat, which then contained at least a foot of water, it was amid cheers and handshakes. She was first greeted by her husband, a moving picture photographer and a passenger from San Francisco.

As a young girl Mrs. Aldrich lived in LaSalle, Illinois, where her father was in the implement business. The Aldrichs now claim Honolulu as their home.

On the five-day cruise around the islands, upon which our party embarked in the morning, we expect to see Mrs. Frank K. Orvis and daughter, Miss Gertrude.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

Editor of the Telegraph:—In your issue Saturday night there appeared a letter from "Yed" in which he inquires what caused "Citizen" to flop on the Soldier and Sailor Memorial question. "Yed" is laboring under a misapprehension as there has been no change of sentiment as is clearly indicated in my letter also published on Saturday, with which was submitted the form of a petition for use in getting the question before the voters. Some misguided fellow citizen, signing his communication "A Citizen" stated that the action of the Supervisors was misunderstood, that the appropriation of $5000 for the bronze tablet was only a beginning, that more will be spent when the county can afford it. But casual observation should convince any normal mind that if the Supervisors are permitted to go ahead and throw away $5000 on a bronze tablet that that action will end it for another 82 years. "A Citizen" is no relation of ours. Please do not confuse us as we don't want to be classified together. We don't believe in offering excuses for the most unpopular action ever taken by the County Board of Lee county, action that should cause every patriotic citizen who is proud of his county to conclude that: "Oh well what is the

PAINFUL RHEUMATIC SWELLINGS DISAPPEAR

Discoverer Tells Public Drug & Book Co. and All Good Druggists Not to Take a Cent of Anyone's Money Unless Allenru Completely Banishes All Rheumatic Pains and Twinges.

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspaper. Public Drug & Book Co. has been appointed agent for Allenru in this vicinity with the understanding that he will freely return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they received no benefit.—Adv.

EVANS' TRIPLE PHOSPHATES PUTS GOOD SOLID RED-BLOODED HEALTHY FLESH ON YOUR BONES

And Makes You Feel 100% Better at Same Time

What difference does it make to you how EVANS' TRIPLE PHOSPHATE puts good, solid, red-blooded, healthy flesh on your bones as long as it does it and makes you feel 100% better at the same time? Evans' Triple Phosphate is something new and something that really does what is claimed for it. Start to take it today with each meal, and in four days you'll know that you are growing more robust and feel stronger and more active. Continue with the treatment faithfully for 10 days more and note with satisfaction that your nerves are growing more responsive; that your ambition does not lag, but is cheerfully obedient to your wishes, that a touch of color is appearing in your cheeks and that your occupation ceases to become a task and is a pleasure. Notice that never before in your whole life have you enjoyed living as you do today. Weigh yourself at the end of one month and let the scales tell the story.

Public Drug & Book Co. and all good druggists have agreed to supply thin, run-down, under-developed persons with the understanding that if one month's treatment doesn't give most gratifying results your money is waiting for you. But don't take it even though it accomplishes wonders in nervous digestive troubles and as a general nerve tonic, unless you really want to put on flesh and gain weight.—Adv.

This Letter Will Tell You How

"I suffered terribly every month, and was always tired and nervous, and had indigestion, and often could not do a thing. I was this way about two years, and had to stay home with my mother. I tried several medicines, then I found a book of yours, and mamma told me to try the Compound. So I got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it certainly worked wonders with me. I have taken six bottles of it, and am still taking it when I feel the need of it. I have already recommended it to a number of working girls, who are taking it. I am working now, and stand up all day and feel fine. I am glad to say that Pinkham's medicine did a lot for me and for my mother, and we only wish we had taken it a long time before."—Rose Schoeff, 4870 Annunciation St., New Orleans, La.

This letter is but one of a great number received every year from women, young and old, and from almost every walk of life. These letters testify to the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Miss Schoeff works for her living, but on account of sickness was obliged to stay at home for two years. During this period she suffered terribly at times. She tried several medicines without finding relief. Finally she tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and in this letter tells what it did for her.

The Vegetable Compound contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and can be taken in safety by any woman. Your livelihood may depend on your health. So try

The clearing bank has guaranteed the deposits of the bank. Benesh organized the bank in 1913. Land speculation which cost him a great deal of money, is given as the cause of the act.
